

Gallaudet University Press Policy on Posting Published Materials on Open-Access Internet Sites

Gallaudet University Press recognizes that authors own the rights to intellectual content that they have created and may disseminate their work in manuscript form without attribution at their discretion.

Authors who wish to disseminate their work as published by Gallaudet University Press must obtain permission from the Press. Should authors desire to post electronic versions of their work that originally appeared in a Gallaudet University Press publication, the following stipulations shall apply:

1. Before any agreement between GU Press and authors can be completed, the authors must disclose whether they are bound by regulations of an institution or granting agency with which they are affiliated to make all published works available on an open-access Internet site.
2. If authors ask GU Press to honor a nonbinding request by any institution or granting agency with which they are affiliated to make a published work available on an open-access Internet site, the following credit notice shall appear on the first page of the work:

For book chapters:
